

Best pictures as Dundee's Greenfield Academy marks first official day

The new school is a merger between Braeview Academy and Craigie High School.

© The Courier

Some of the pupils arriving at Dundee's newest school. Images: Kim Cessford/DC Thomson.

Dundee's newest secondary school Greenfield Academy has officially opened.

The £100m school replaces Braeview Academy and Craigie High School and is part of the wider Drumgeith Community Campus.

Construction of the state-of-the-art facility began in summer 2023.

It has a pupil roll of around 1,500 and will be led by former Morgan Academy head teacher Johnny Lothian.

The Courier's photographer Kim Cessford was there to capture the moment pupils walked through the door of Greenfield Academy for the first time.

Pipers welcome pupils to their new school.

Pupils arrive for the first day at Greenfield Academy.

Greenfield Academy is a merger between Braeview Academy and Craigie High School.

Today is the official first day of term.

The school has a pupil roll of around 1,500.

Staff are excited to get started. Image:

The pupils were all smiles.

The new school gets a thumbs up.

The pupils arriving for their first day.

The pupils got an extended summer break.

Greenfield Academy is built on the site of the former St Saviour's High School

It took a little over two years to build the school.